2. Event Overview

The National Level Online Quiz Competition 2026 was organised by Maxwell Arts, Commerce and Science College, Nagpur in collaboration with the Association of All Computer Science Teachers (AACST). The quiz was conducted online on Friday, 18 September 2026 at 11:30 AM.

Under the theme "Challenge Your Knowledge, Compete, Excel", the competition was open to undergraduate and postgraduate students of every stream. Instead of testing only one subject, it brought together four areas that every graduate needs: awareness of current events, computer literacy, reasoning ability and command of the English language.

The competition received a whopping participation of 514 students from various colleges. It gave students an excellent opportunity to test and enhance their knowledge of computer science and related areas, and to take part in a national level academic competition from their own campus or home.

3. Organising Team

Patron	Dr. Subhash Kondawar, Principal, Maxwell Arts, Commerce and Science College, Nagpur
Mentor & Convener	Dr. S. B. Kishor, President, AACST
In-Charge / Coordinators	Dr. Tejsingh Kirad Ms. Nigar Pathan

The dedicated efforts and coordination of the organising team contributed significantly to the smooth and successful conduct of the competition.

4. Objectives of the Quiz

- To encourage students to test and broaden their knowledge beyond the classroom syllabus.
- To promote basic computer literacy and awareness of current national and international affairs.
- To sharpen logical reasoning, quantitative aptitude and analytical ability.
- To strengthen English grammar, vocabulary and comprehension skills.
- To give students of every stream a national level platform to compete and be recognised.

5. Structure and Conduct of the Quiz

The quiz was held as a single online session in multiple choice format. It covered four sections:

Section	Area	Coverage
1	Current Affairs	National and international events
2	Basic Computer Literacy	Computer fundamentals, hardware, software, MS Office and the Internet
3	General Aptitude	Logical reasoning, quantitative aptitude and analytical ability
4	English Language & Literature	Grammar, vocabulary, comprehension and literature

- All questions were mandatory and of the multiple choice type.
- Where scores were equal, earlier completion ranked higher.
- Participants attempted the quiz online with their own internet connection, and the rules on fair play were applied strictly.

6. Participation

The competition witnessed a whopping participation of 514 students. The prize list itself shows the reach of the event: the 15 prize winners come from 13 different colleges in 9 towns and cities, including Nagpur, Akola, Chandrapur, Wardha, Pusad, Badnera, Bhadrawati, Bramhapuri and Jarud.

A nominal application processing fee of Rs. 50/- and the online format made the competition easy to join for students of all streams, and every participant became eligible for an e-certificate.
